E.N. MAMEDOV to MR. FREERS at the State Dept. explained that the printers of the USSR magazine would ship copies of the magazine to local post offices who would send copies to local offices of American News Co. who would then distribute to newsstands. (Apparently State had previously requested to know how the distribution setup worked) MAMEDOV then told FREERS that the Hemisphere Press had sent the first issue to American News without his specific permission. MAM has called American News and told them not to distribute until he gives the word. FREERS said he had no word as yet from Moscow as to when approval will be given for distribution of the magazine. ek
